Monthly updates from OUR team to yours!

DECEMBER 2022

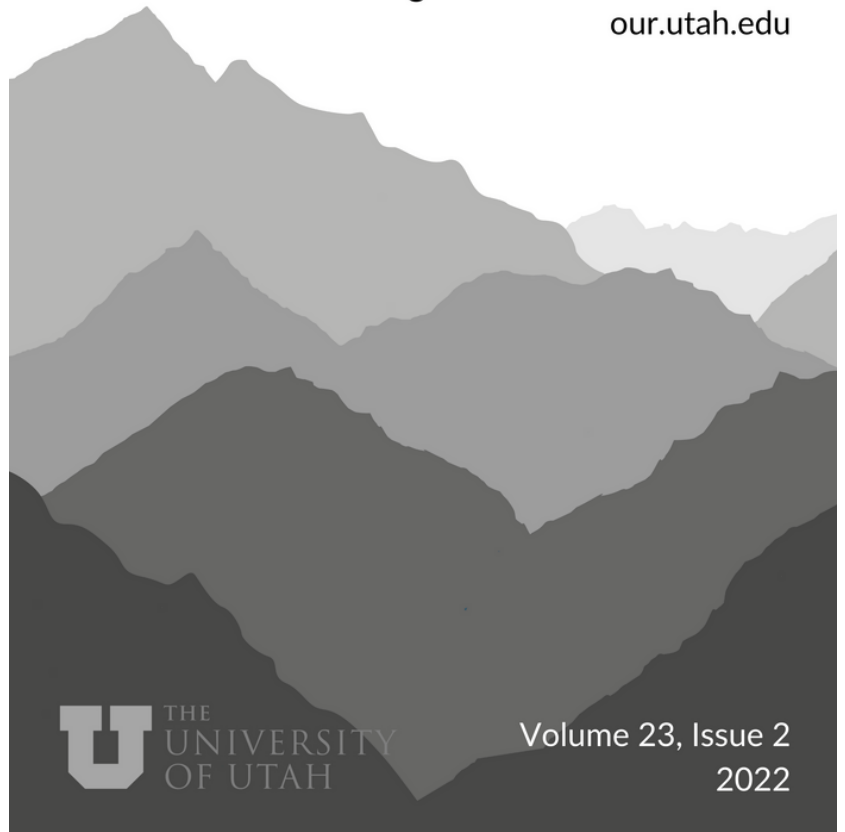

December 2022 was an exciting month for the Office of Undergraduate Research. OUR's Virtual Fall Symposium (2022) was held, including 41 presentations from 12 disciplines. This event reflects the role of research and public speaking as an important skill to develop for early career scholars.

OUR is pleased to share incredibly exciting news! The OUR undergraduate research journal is being renamed to Range: Undergraduate Research Journal, and is now published on Press Books. For the first time ever, the journal will now be searchable, downloadable, indexable, and easily readable on the web. Volume 23, issue 2 features 74 publications from across the disciplines. The new interface is accessible and reader friendly featuring e-books and a clean web interface. We encourage the research community to peruse the impressive contributions from University of Utah undergraduate researchers and their mentors.
